

ENTHUSED

Was Large Gathering at Last Meeting at the Catholic Federation.

Plans Outlined For National Convention Here Next August.

Feature Will Be the Monster Parade and Display at Night.

WILL BRING THOUSANDS HERE

The meeting of the delegates of the Jefferson County Federation of Catholic Societies at the Catholic Women's Club on Thursday night of last week was a notable one and was marked throughout by a spirit of real enthusiasm. This was in no small measure due to the remarks of Col. John P. Whalen, who in a brief but forceful speech spoke of the work before the local federation and his own deep interest in it; of the power for good that lies in united action, and how this union of strength does not lessen the strength of the individual society, but rather increases it.

Dr. Peter S. Ganz presided over the meeting, which numbered nearly a hundred delegates. Thomas Dolan and John J. Score were seated as representatives of the County Board, A. O. H., and Central Committee, C. K. and L. of A. The various committee reports were read by Secretary James B. Kelly, and also letters from Dr. August Schachner and Dr. Gilbert C. Smith, accompanied by checks to help defray the expenses of the national convention which meets here next August and for which extensive preparations are being made. Thomas Keenan presented a handsome contribution from Branch 2 of the Catholic Knights and Ladies, as did also Miss Mary Corcoran for the Hibernian Ladies' Auxiliary.

Following the report of the Executive Committee, to the effect that the route for the monster night parade had been mapped out and that the work was going along rapidly, Col. Whalen, Chairman of the Parade Committee, suggested that each parish be represented by a float. This was unanimously agreed to, and Alderman Barney Campbell, Jr., was appointed Chairman of a committee that will lay the proposition before the men of the various city parishes. It is thought that this will add thirty floats to the number that will be placed in the parade by the Catholic societies of the Falls Cities.

So great has become the public interest and so encouraging the reports that it was decided to admit all societies to the federation without having to pay any per capita tax during the year 1912, and to add additional strength to the movement. Upon motion Messrs. John J. Score, Andrew Kast and Dan Dougherty were named a committee to visit those branches of the Catholic Knights and Ladies not yet represented. This action, it is thought, will bring every Conference of the St. Vincent de Paul Society and all other organizations into the federation for this year at least. Dr. Charles Edelen and Dr. Bernard O'Connor were named as heads for the ambulance corps that will be organized to look after the safety of those who will take part in the parade and other functions and the thousands of strangers who will come to Louisville.

Before the adjournment Messrs. John Score, William M. Higgins, A. G. Sund and John Doyle responded to the calls for some words from them by briefly but enthusiastically endorsing the work of the federation and what can be accomplished by it. The next meeting takes place on Thursday, April 11, and all those who are interested in the national convention are extended an invitation to be present.

HURT PLAYING BALL.

While playing baseball with a number of boy companions in Elliott Square Park last Sunday afternoon James Tierney, son of Chairman Tierney, met with the first accident of the season. During the game the lad fell, and when taken to his home at 2709 West Chestnut street examination showed that he had suffered a fracture of the right arm, which was set by Dr. John H. Buschmeyer, who was summoned to attend him.

ANSWERS FINAL SUMMONS.

Hundreds of Jeffersonville people will, we are sure, utter a fervent prayer for the repose of the soul of Martin Fogarty, whose funeral took place Monday morning from St. Augustine's church. Rev. Father O'Connell officiating at the solemn mass of requiem. For a number of years the deceased was general foreman in the painting department of the Louisville & Nashville railroad in Louisville, but for several months had been a patient sufferer from pulmonary trouble. Martin Fogarty was a native of Jeffersonville and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Deanna Fogarty, who located in Jeffersonville many years ago. He was fifty-five years old and leaves a widow, who was Miss Mollie Cantrell. Besides his wife Mr. Fogarty is survived by three sons and one daughter, as follows: Edward Fogarty, Raymond Fogarty, Miss Mayme Fogarty and John Fogarty. He was a member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and the Knights of Columbus and was identified with St. Augustine's church from boyhood. Martin Fogarty was cheerful always and welcome everywhere, his presence creating good feeling, no matter what the surroundings.

SETS PACE.

Martin Cusick Receives His Sons Into Ancient Order.

Martin Cusick, President of Division 1, and one of the most widely known Hibernians in the entire South, had the unusual and extreme pleasure of receiving his two sons, Walter and Martin Cusick, Jr., into the Ancient Order at the meeting held Tuesday night at Falls City Hall. Thus the pace is set for other Presidents and members of this grand old Irish Catholic order that now numbers over 250,000 in the United States. After the obligation had been taken there was a recess, during which the proud father and sons received congratulations from all sides. Owing to the fact that it was Holy Week there was a marked falling off in the attendance. Daniel McCarthy was called to the Vice President's chair and one candidate was elected to membership. Several will be reported at the next meeting, which shows a gratifying increase since the beginning of the year. William M. Higgins was called upon and briefly outlined the plans of the Catholic Federation for the great gathering here this year. County President Dolan reported the proceedings of the County Board, which will give its annual reunion and picnic at Phoenix Hill in June. He also suggested that the Hibernians be represented by a float in the federation parade and favored the formation of a juvenile division. Under the good and wise guidance of order James Barry, Thomas Keenan, Anthony Tompkins and others were called upon and responded with words of advice and encouragement that were appreciated.

FRANKFORT.

Father Flynn Arranges Services For Easter Sunday.

In accordance with the custom that has prevailed at Frankfort for several years past, the choir of the Church of the Good Shepherd will render a special musical programme at the high mass and vespers on Easter Sunday, April 7. The Church of the Good Shepherd choir is conceded to be the best in the Covington diocese, and under the direction of Mrs. Clara Chew, the organist, has been practicing new music for several weeks, which will be sung on Easter Sunday. Solemn high mass will be celebrated at 10 o'clock by Father Joseph A. Flynn, the rector, and solemn vespers will be sung at 7:30 in the evening. It is said upon good authority that one of the most prominent young members of Frankfort Council, K. of C., will embark upon the sea of matrimony shortly after Easter, when he will lead to the altar one of Kentucky's fairest daughters, who resides in a city not many miles from Frankfort. Two and possibly three other marriages will also occur within the next few weeks among Frankfort's most popular young set, and it seems that the little rod Cupid has been extremely busy during the season of prayer and fasting which comes to a close Sunday, when the joyous Easter bells will proclaim the close of the Lenten season.

COUNTY BOARD PICNIC.

The County Board of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at its meeting this week decided to give a picnic at Phoenix Hill Park on Monday, June 24, the proceeds of which will be used in defraying the expenses of the State convention which will be held here this fall. To avoid making any assessment for the expenses of the convention each division of Jefferson county will be allotted an equal number of the picnic tickets and will have to guarantee disposal of same. President Thomas Dolan will announce the appointment of the different committees at a later date. The meeting was held in Cusick's Hall.

POLICEMEN IMPROVING.

Nine policemen were compelled to relinquish their beats last week because of illness or injuries sustained in the performance of their duty. All are reported improving and expected to be soon able to again make their posts. They are Patrolmen James Hourigan, William O'Connell, Sigel Connelly, James Hershey, John Mullins, William Gannon, John Burke, Tim McCarthy and Robert Scanlon, who was able to be removed to his room after an illness of several weeks at Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital.

K. OF C. SMOKER.

Thomas W. Tatpey, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee of the local council Knights of Columbus, has announced a smoker for the members for next Wednesday evening, and will also have a programme of short talks, vocal and instrumental music. The council is now making preparations for the next initiation, which will be held on Sunday, May 12.

EASTER.

The One Time When the Spiritual and Material Combine.

Of All Our Religious Festivals It Is the Most Ideal.

Christians, Mohammedans and Jews All Pay Its Coming Reverence.

FILLS MANKIND WITH JOY

If there is one time, writes Katharine Louise Smith, when the spiritual and material combine it is Easter day. Of all religious festivals it is the most ideal for at Easter both in Cathedral and humble home the white and golden lilies bloom. Many and strange are the observances of Easter Sunday. The paschal lamb of the Jews is the Christ of the churchmen. The very name comes down to us from a different religion, for the goddess of the East was in Saxon mythology Ostara or Easter. In the never-changing East and the mutable West the desire to celebrate this day is the same, and heathendom and Christianity, Mohammedans and Jews, all pay reverence to the coming of spring. Probably nowhere is one more impressed with this than in Jerusalem, that sacred city where comes on Easter day the Catholic pilgrim, the nomadic Arab, the men of the sand-swept desert, and the Jews of Palestine. The numerous services are of an intensely religious character, and vary in importance from the time when the patriarch washes the feet of his priests, as a sign of humility, to the wonderful ceremony held on the Saturday before Easter when the Sacred Fire from heaven is handed to the people. This psychological moment is waited with breathless interest, and it is the most wonderful of the many religious observances held during Passion week. For hours the church has been crowded by pilgrims, who fill aisles, doorway and stretch from the nave down to the heart of the city. They are waiting for the fire which is to light up Jerusalem. As the Patriarch appears in the holy of holies and holds aloft his lighted torch, illuminated by a blaze from heaven, the nearest pilgrim touches it with his candle, and passes on the fire to the other torches. Soon the streets are aflame with flambeaux lighted from the Patriarch's sacred fire, and waiting pilgrims in the surrounding country pass on the flame until the land is a blaze of light. Though pilgrims of every faith crowd into Jerusalem to witness this sight, the services are always in the hands of the Greek church, and that there may be order, the streets are patrolled by Turkish soldiers. This and other ceremonies are conducted in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, which is built on the most sacred spot in this holy city and contains a large stone, said to be the identical one on which Christ was prepared for burial. There is something in the atmosphere of the place, in the knowledge that here were enacted many of the scenes in our Saviour's life, that fills the onlooker with awe.

The quaint Moroccan village of Bethlehem in Pennsylvania is to us what Oberammergau is to the Old World. Pilgrims flock to this little town from all parts of the world, for from the eve of Palm Sunday through Easter there are many services, each coincident with the life of Christ. Thus, Palm Sunday commemorates the triumphal entry of Christ into Jerusalem; Monday tells of Christ healing the lame in the Temple; Tuesday suggests the giving of the Parables, and Thursday the Last Supper. The climax of the week's devotional exercises is reached when the Sayings of Christ upon the cross are read and the bells toll solemnly for the Saviour's death. But all this sadness is changed on Easter morning when the beautiful trombone choir awakens the people playing hymns of rejoicing. One by one lights appear in the windows; men, women and children hurry forth, and soon the little church, resplendent in its floral decorations, is filled to overflowing. This is not the most impressive part of the service, for at the sounds of the trombone the people move from the church to the cemetery near by, one of the oldest in America. Here they form a hollow square, in the center of which stands the minister and the choir, and as the dawn changes into day the concourse sings the grand old hymns that close the services for the week. The rising sun seems to touch the tree-tops with a sort of glory; the birds begin their morning anthems and all nature seems to join in the chants of praise and rejoicing.

In our observance of Easter few stop to consider that the quaint custom of egg-giving is a survival of Saxon times. We find many stories of eggs, hares and rabbits in Germany associated with the joys of childhood on Easter day; and in France the Easter eggs are made of manifold and costly devices. In Ireland and Scotland the children are taught to break eggs in the form of a cross. Quercet of all colored Easter eggs are offered at high mass in Russia. With all these precedents behind it it is no wonder that we have a gala time at Washington, and that on Easter day democracy rules supreme on the sloping White House lawn. From early morning until 6 o'clock the children roll eggs and, though no one knows who started the custom, the American child does his share in inaugurating another spring and showing in a material way the joy with which the ancient festival of Easter fills mankind.

FATHER SHERIDAN

Aged Pastor of Holy Cross Church in Critical Condition.

Catholics of Louisville and the entire diocese were grieved Thursday evening to learn that the Rev. John Sheridan, pastor of Holy Cross church, Thirty-second and Broadway, lies in a critical condition at Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital. Father Sheridan has been in poor health for the past year, and it was not until he was forced to that he would consent to cease his arduous labors. Everything that affection and skill can resort to is being done for him, and the prayers of his people are ascending for his recovery.

TRINITY COUNCIL

Putting Finishing Touches on Opera, "Sergeant Kilty."

The meeting of Trinity Council this week was short but interesting, with a good attendance and much enthusiasm. The Gethsemane committee will meet tomorrow afternoon and complete arrangements for the big feast on May 2. Applications continue to be received in a manner that is winning for the Membership Committee the admiration of the entire council, which gives assurance of a splendid initiation. The Opera Committee reported a very encouraging meeting Friday night and that the boys are making strenuous effort to make "Sergeant Kilty" the best amateur performance ever attempted in Louisville. From an artistic standpoint the show is already an assured success, and with two weeks left to put on the finishing touches there is no cause for worry. Tickets are going rapidly, and every member of Trinity is working hard, as is also every one connected with the opera. Trinity is certainly on the right road and merits the support of the entire public.

RECENT DEATHS.

The sincere sympathy of many friends is extended to Robert G. and Ida C. Loran, of 2627 West Chestnut street, on the death of their four-year-old son Robert, whose funeral took place Sunday afternoon from St. Charles Borromeo church. His death brought the greatest grief to devoted parents, who bow in submission to the will of God, but will ever mourn his loss.

The funeral of Miss Bridget Lynch, whose death followed a short illness of pneumonia, took place Monday morning from St. Louis Bertrand's church, of which she was a life-long and devoted member. Miss Lynch resided at 1019 South Sixth street, and was fifty-two years of age. Surviving her are two sisters, Misses Mollie and Nora Lynch; a nephew, John Winn, and a niece, Mrs. James Duane, all of this city.

Paul Graham, a veteran fireman and former Captain at No. 16 and 17 houses, was called to his eternal reward Monday after an illness of paralysis at his home, 1707 Bismarck avenue. Besides his widow he is survived by four sons, Elmer, aide to Chief Lehan; Lee Graham, a substitute fireman; Arthur Graham, a policeman, and John Graham, an engineer. His funeral took place Wednesday morning from St. Peter's church, and was largely attended by mourning friends and an escort from the fire department.

The Church of Our Lady in Portland lost one of its oldest and most highly respected members when Benjamin J. Webb died Wednesday at his home, 3105 Portland avenue, following an illness of tuberculosis. For forty-two years the deceased had been a clerk with the Louisville & Nashville railroad, but resigned four years ago to go with the Henderson Route. Surviving him are two daughters, Misses Alice and Frances Webb, and two sons, Charles and Benedict Webb, Jr. The funeral took place yesterday morning, Rev. Father James Conniff celebrating the solemn mass of requiem.

POLITICS.

Tatt Republicans Will Show Roosevelt Some Real Rough Ridding.

Tatt Machine Well Oiled and Working Nicely in Today's Primary.

Speaker Champ Clark Now Favorite For the Democratic Nomination.

WATTERSON CLUB ORGANIZES

All eyes are now on the State convention of the Republicans, which will convene next Wednesday at noon, and from present indications there will be many hats thrown in the Phoenix Hill Park ring, where the convention will be held, as ever since ex-President Roosevelt's visit last Wednesday evening the fight between the Taft and Roosevelt factions has waged vigorously and charges of fraud and counter charges have been heard from both sides. The delegates to the State convention in the State will be chosen in mass conventions, while here they will be chosen in a free for all primary today, which promises to be a hummer, and if the police do not have their hands full before nightfall it will certainly be a surprise to many. To a disinterested outsider it looks like Roosevelt is due for a good rodding from the Taft machine, and the wise politicians say that the Taft people are going to follow the precedent set by the Colonel in the past—rough-ride over his enemies. Even the Post sees the handwriting on the wall and is already paving the way for a big cry of fraud when the returns come in. By the way, Editor Knott spoke of the Kentucky Irish American as a "political ignoramus" a few weeks ago, and now that his two choices, Roosevelt and Wilson, are sure losers, it is a reminder of our statement in these columns that the Post never supported a winner in its career.

The nomination from a Democratic standpoint is narrowed down to Speaker Champ Clark against the field, with the chances in favor of the Speaker, who will make a strong candidate from every standpoint. Next to Clark either Harmon, Lindwood or Marshall would have a splendid chance to win if nominated, but not Gov. Woodrow Wilson, as the published articles from his book attacking the Italian and Hungarian citizens and preferring Chinese immigrants over these two, has practically killed any chances he might have for future political honors. Louisville and the State are keenly watching the contest between Clark, who is a native son, their entire instructed vote in the national convention at Baltimore in June.

The organization of the Henry Watterson Club Tuesday evening. In the Tyler Hotel will add strength and enthusiasm to the local Democratic organization, and the officers in guiding the fortunes of the club. A sure sign of the impending Democratic victory was seen in some of those who were present and became charter members, men who had been out of the party for years and now see chances for a share in the political pie after November.

Some one should lift off the Post on the virtue of consistency. Day in and day out it has been branding the Louisville Police department and telling its readers what a disorganized body it was, while Thursday it stated that one of the best managed features of Col. Roosevelt's visit to Louisville was the fine work of the Police department and how the police cleared the way for the distinguished visitor's entrance to the city. In addition to this Chief Col. Roosevelt asked to see Chief Lindsey and complimented him on the work of the police and stated that "I certainly do take an interest in a good police department." After this the Post might try for a motto: "Consistency, thou art a jewel."

HURT BY FALL.

Miss Mattie Hill sustained serious and painful injuries last Friday when a ladder on which she was standing while hanging curtains slipped on the hardwood floor at her home, 526 East Breckinridge street. Miss Hill fell to the floor, and when Dr. Frank Corrigan was called it was discovered that she had suffered a badly fractured hip in addition to injury to her arms. The unfortunate young lady is the daughter of Thomas Hill, of the L. and N., and a sister of the Rev. Father John T. Hill. Miss Hill is resting easily at her home, where it is thought she will fully recover from her injuries.

EIGHT CLUBS.

The Falls City Catholic Athletic Association has completed its baseball league, which will consist of eight clubs. At the last meeting Joseph Feley was elected a Director to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Matthew Foley, who has changed his residence to Chicago, and four umpires, Dan Lally, Mulligan, Hanrahan and McElride, were appointed by the President. Among the other business conducted was the election of "Babe" Ryan as permanent representative of the league at all meetings of the Amateur Baseball Federation. The next meeting will be held Thursday night at St. Anthony's Hall, when the schedule will probably be announced and final rules adopted. Most of the teams have purchased their uniforms and other equipment, and are prepared to start the season. The league is in a healthy condition, and the race for the pennant promises to be interesting from start to finish. Following are the clubs that form the organization: Holy Cross, St. Charles, St. Louis Bertrand, St. William's, St. Brigid's, St. Anthony's, St. Martin's and Holy Trinity, of New Albany.

BOOSTING.

Division 3, A. O. H., Awards Prize to John J. Hession.

Division 3, A. O. H., held a splendidly attended meeting Monday night and boosted its membership by receiving four applications and obligating two candidates, Patrick Manion and William McGrath. Communications from the National, State and County Boards were read and acted upon favorably. John J. Hession, Sr., winner of the recent membership contest, who has returned to the city, was present, and upon the request of Capt. Thomas Quinn, Attorney Lawrence J. Mackey made the presentation speech and awarded the gold prize offered by Division 3. In making the presentation Mr. Mackey delivered a splendid address, in which he complimented the members of the opposing teams for their work during the past year. Irish history was the subject discussed by Patrick Manion, who was interesting throughout and was warmly applauded. Delegates L. J. Mackey spoke at some length on the local Catholic Federation and the coming national convention. In concluding he invited the members to attend the meetings of the federation at the Catholic Women's Club on the second and fourth Thursday nights of the month. President Hourigan kept the business moving and the meeting was adjourned at a reasonable hour.

LIVELY

Doings at Mackin Council Meeting Monday Night.

President Frank Adams and the members of Mackin Council held a lively meeting Monday night. Seven applications were received, making a class of forty-four now awaiting the initiation on April 14. Preceding the initiation, which takes place in the afternoon, the members and candidates will attend the early mass at St. Charles church and receive holy communion in a body, the day closing with a banquet at the Tyler Hotel. Visiting Committees reported only two members on the sick list, Joseph Gathof and William Gallagher, both of whom are improving. An invitation was accepted to the Social Club dance Easter Monday night, at which all business sessions and refreshments will be held. Chairman Sherry Cuniff reported that the program arranged by the Entertainment Committee included a debate for April 15, with Attorney Joseph Hancock, Bernard Henley, Dr. J. A. Casper and E. B. Dillon on the contesting sides. On April 22 there will be a boxing match, and on April 29 a social session and refreshments. The Opera Committee announced the chorus and cast as fully prepared to give their best show. Under the good of the order remarks on the progress of the Y. M. C. in Kentucky were made by Sherry Cuniff, James Shelley, George Laut and others.

TAKES BETTER PLACE.

An item of interest to the coal business in Louisville is the announcement of the resignation of Mr. M. J. Finnegan as Secretary of the Central Coal and Iron Company and manager of their local offices, to accept the position of general sales agent and assistant manager of the Louisville Coal and Coke Company, with offices at 738 East Market street. Mr. Finnegan brings to his new position twenty-seven years' experience in the coal business, twenty-two of which were with the Central Coal and Iron Company. He succeeded the late Spalding Coleman as Secretary of the Central Coal and Iron Company, the Main Jellico Mountain Coal Company, the McHenry Coal Company and the Central City Coal Company. Mr. Finnegan brings to his new connection the best wishes of his legion of friends in this city and throughout the State.

BISHOP'S JUBILEE.

Citizens of Providence, R. I., have secured Lafayette Hall and are arranging for a great civic celebration of the silver jubilee of the consecration of the Right Rev. Matthew Harkins on the evening of April 15. The celebration will take the form of a public reception and address of congratulation to which Bishop Harkins will respond.

EARLY IN FIELD.

The first to announce a sunset excursion for the coming season is the Mackin Social Club, who have chartered the new steamer, Corona, for the afternoon and evening of Saturday, August 3. This is an annual event looked forward to with widespread interest by the young people of the city.

O'CONNOR

Sees Hope For Early Action on Home Rule Bill For Ireland.

Week Begun With the Darkest Gloom Ends in Political Sunshine.

Defeat of Woman's Bill Due to Turnover of the Irish Vote.

MIGHTY GATHERING FOR DUBLIN

From London T. P. O'Connor, M. P., cables the American press that the triumphant close of the miners' struggle, the return of the men to work and the resumption of national activity, together with the universal admiration of Asquith's handling of the situation, places the Government once more in the ascendant, and the way is cleared for a straight home rule campaign. It was impossible to propose a home rule measure while England was in the throes of such a catastrophe, but by Thursday after Easter, when action on the home rule bill is proposed, the men will probably be all back to work, the factories once more reopened, as well as the mining pits, and England generally in exultation over a renewal of national life, and there could not be a better atmosphere for favorable consideration of the Irish problem.

The defeat of the woman's suffrage bill also helps the Government. The passage of the bill might well have led to a Ministerial crisis, with two or three resignations, and this in the midst of other difficulties, through the insurance act and the loss of by-elections might have led to such discrediting of the Ministry as to make the passage of the home rule bill impossible. The defeat of the woman's bill was largely due to the turnover of the Irish vote, which twice last week has again asserted itself as a dominating factor in all English politics. Thus a week beginning with the darkest of gloom ends in political sunshine, and a general feeling of relief and encouragement to all Liberals and Irish hopes. During the week the whole political situation was overshadowed by the national tragedy. This only question that continued to make a quiet and steady advance was the home rule bill, discussions of the details of which proceeded regularly between the English Ministers and the Irish leaders whenever Asquith was released from negotiations on the strike. After being up until 4 o'clock Wednesday morning in the house of Commons Asquith was with the Irish leaders at 11:30 in his house in Downing street discussing details of the home rule measure. All rumors of a difficult or even serious division of opinions, were wholly unfounded. Both sides started with a firm and honest intention to give a generous measure of self-government, such as Ireland could accept loyally and England approve heartily, and each side appreciated the difficulties of the other party and all discussions were carried out with perfect temper and good will and good sense. Meantime the Nationalist Irish accepted the challenge of Belfast Orangemen and a meeting will be held in Dublin, where Redmond and other leaders will speak. It is expected to be one of the mightiest gatherings since the days of Parnell.

The miners' strike has had two curious by-products in the Irish struggle. First, home rule has begun to be considered in its true sense of proportion as small in comparison with its deadly peril to English society of the new syndicalism, and many eyes turn from the clouded future of England with relief to the prospect of a peaceful, conservative Ireland, with a population of prosperous and thrifty anti-socialist peasant proprietors. Secondly, the violence of the language of the syndicalists and their appeals to the soldiers not to fire on the mobs while compelling the Government to prosecute and punish the syndicalists of England, aroused deeper indignation against Lord Londonderry and Carson for using similar language and yet remaining untouched. Such language is not likely to be employed in the future, and if used will still more damage the Orange cause.

SYMPATHY FOR PARENTS.

Words will not adequately describe the poignant sorrow which filled the many friends and relatives of Robert and Agnes Hegan on hearing of the death of their sixteen-year-old son, Robert P. Hegan, which occurred on Thursday night of last week, following an illness of less than twelve hours. Thursday morning the youth was stricken at his home, 1734 West Madison street, and despite all the fond parents could accomplish, in addition to anxious medical attention, he passed from this vale of tears to his home in heaven. His funeral took place Friday afternoon, with interment at St. Louis cemetery. Among his relatives he will be long remembered for his always happy, unassuming, friendly traits of character. The sorrowing father and mother, brothers and sister generally, pathos is extended.

EASTER.

The principal disposition of the devout Christian at Easter, in commemorating the glorious event of Christ's resurrection from the dead, consists in renewing his faith in the truths of religion, his hopes to share one day in the glory of his Saviour and his charity, by rising to a life of fervor in the sight of God. It is incumbent upon Catholics to go to confession and communion at Easter or thereabout.

The church has always considered Easter the first and most solemn of the festivals which she celebrates. The passion of our Lord and Lent is commemorated with tears and penance, only to celebrate more joyfully the mystery of the resurrection; for St. Paul teaches us this mystery is the foundation of Christianity, for he says: "If Christ is not risen again your faith is in vain." But having risen from the dead, He has proved the truth of his declarations. His teachings are from God, and faith in Him is the only means of salvation. The feast of Easter is also styled by the church the "day which the Lord hath made," being the day of his triumph over the power of his enemies and the darkness of the tomb.

Easter comes at a time when nature seems to be resurrecting. It was fixed by the first Council of Nice to be celebrated on the Sunday following the full moon after the twenty-first of March, the day of the vernal equinox. It can not come earlier than the twenty-second of March or later than April 18. Next year, by the way, Easter will come on March 23, and it will not occur so early again until after the year 2000. Those who would make their Easter duty have until Trinity Sunday to do so, but the church urges all to make it now.

OUST "SOCIAL CENTERS."

The Kentucky Irish American stated in its last issue that it was unjust to the taxpayers for the school buildings to be turned over to "social centers," "parent-teacher associations" and the like for candy pullings, etc. At its meeting Wednesday the Board of Education decided that in the future they would charge a nominal sum for the "social centers," use of light, heat, janitor service, etc. They should go farther and compel these suffragettes to rent public halls like any other organization and not impose on the taxpayers. If this is not done the proposed million dollar school bond issue for the coming election is as good as defeated right now.

PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES.

It is a little early to forecast the Democratic Presidential nomination, though it is reasonably certain that Taft will be the Republican nominee. It is always more difficult to forecast who will be nominated by the Democrats. There are various reasons for this, among others the rule which requires a two-thirds majority to nominate. This rule does not obtain with the Republicans. Long ago the daily papers had it figured out that Gov. Wilson would be the Democratic nominee, but we have all along believed that no man with the radical views of Gov. Wilson can get a two-thirds vote in a national convention. The party is not yet committed to the initiative, referendum and recall and other laws which Gov. Wilson advocated, nor is it by any means in favor of prohibition, which Gov. Wilson has declared practicable in certain communities and States.

At the present writing Speaker Champ Clark looms up the largest among the Presidential possibilities. He is a Kentuckian, and it is only fair to assume that he will receive the delegate vote of this State. His record is good, and there is no reason why he would not make a good race if nominated. Then there is the Governor of our neighboring State, Thomas R. Marshall, an able, clean man, who has made an admirable Governor and who would make a good President. Gov. Marshall is not so well known as Speaker Clark, but wherever he is known his great abilities are recognized.

It does not look like William Jennings Bryan is among the possibilities this time, but there is no doubt that he must be reckoned with the convention and after it. He still has a large following throughout the country. Gov. Harmon does not seem to be gaining ground, though many conservatives throughout the Union are for him. The Bryan contingent would not support him, and there lies the danger in nominating him. The party must nominate not only a good man, but one who can get the votes of his party. It will take all the votes to beat Taft.

There will be many ups and downs in the contest between now and the time of the meeting of the national convention in Baltimore. It is possible that a man not yet named may get the nomination, but during the past week many newspapers have pointed out that Gov. Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, stands the best chance if a dark horse is to be the winner.

SOCIALISM WANING.

The crushing but expected defeat of the Socialists in Milwaukee is but the beginning of the end of this anti-American and anarchistic organization.

Home rule that will satisfy Ireland and her people will evidently not satisfy Editor O'Mahony and the Indiana Catholic. Notwithstanding their continued "knocks," the Irish Nationalists, the people's real representatives, have continued their campaign and home rule draws nearer each day. Does our Indianapolis brother stand with William O'Brien and Tim Healy?

At the Circuit Court joint session Saturday seventeen more decrees of divorce were handed down. In the majority of cases the parties had not been married over three years. To the ease with which divorce is secured in Louisville may be largely attributed the growth of the evil.

It is with exceeding pleasure that the Kentucky Irish American acknowledges receipt of a welcome and commendatory letter from the Most Rev. John Ireland, Archbishop of St. Paul, and we hope the first Cardinal from the great West.

This has been a disastrous week for the thousands of people who have been rendered homeless by the floods south of us. There should be a prompt and generous response to the appeals for aid for these worthy sufferers.

Make your Easter indeed a day of resurrection and blessed happiness by receiving the sacrament of holy communion. Thus you will show your Catholicity and set an example pleasing to the Holy Redeemer.

"URIEL."

Second Edition of Father Bachmann's Book Is Out.

The second edition of the Rev. Father Bachmann's book, just issued from the Anzeiger press, is now ready. The first edition was exhausted some time ago. "Uriel" is the title of the book, which name Father Bachmann adopted as his pen name some time ago. Many commendations are printed on the title pages from distinguished clergymen and others who read the first edition. Among these are words of praise from six Bishops, four doctors of divinity, one doctor of canon law, two very reverend deans, four learned pastors in and outside the diocese, and the appreciation of many laymen. The Ave Maria pronounced the work a remarkable production, and it is, for we have read it with pleasure and profit. The publication contains not only prose essays of high merit but poetry of a high order. Many subjects are treated of and in a way which is both edifying and instructive. Father Bachmann and his friends should be proud of the work, and as the writer is a Louisville priest who has been in the ministry for fifty years, he should have a large number of readers. The book is tastefully printed and bound and is now on sale in all Catholic book stores in Louisville and elsewhere. Procure it; read it, and be pleased.

ENLARGED.

The Child Apostle, an excellent publication for children issued under the auspices of the Catholic Church Extension Society, and bearing the approbation of Archbishop Quigley, comes to us this month enlarged to sixteen pages. Edited by Rev. William D. O'Brien, it contains much valuable reading matter that will interest boys and girls, and if there are any homes without a Catholic juvenile paper parents should secure the Child's Apostle by sending twenty-five cents to Father O'Brien, 1138 McCormick building, Chicago, Ill.

SOCIETY.

Miss Gertrude Egan has been spending a week in Lexington.

Mrs. John Cronin, of South Louisville, has been visiting relatives in Frankfort.

Mrs. Morgan Donohoe was last week the guest of friends and relatives in New Hope.

Miss Margaret Finegan, of Clifton, had Miss Susie Cox, of Middletown, for her guest last week.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Sullivan, of Frankfort, spent a pleasant week visiting relatives in this city.

P. S. Henchy spent last week in New York City, where he placed some large orders for his firm.

Misses Margaret and Winifred Flaherty have taken up their residence in the Belvoir apartments.

Mrs. William Loyal has returned from a delightful visit to Mrs. Jess Loyal, of Woodland Park, Ludlow.

Patrick J. Hanlon was among those who registered at the Hotel Breslin in New York last Saturday.

Mrs. James Leary, of Oakdale, is in Tyrone, Ark., where she will spend several weeks with her parents.

Mrs. Henry A. Troxler and Miss Lula O'Brien have returned from Florida, where they spent the winter months.

Mrs. M. J. Kelly had as guests last week at her home in Portland Misses Clara Taber and Aline Gruber, of Maryland.

Mrs. Frank Kelly will entertain at tea next Tuesday in honor of her sister, Miss Katherine Kiernan, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Mary Meagher and Miss Elizabeth Meagher, of Frankfort, were week-end visitors to the family of John Meagher.

Mrs. John W. Galvin and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Hayes, left Wednesday to spend the Easter holidays at Atlantic City.

Mrs. J. H. Kearns, and daughter, Miss Katherine Kearns, returned Sunday from Mobile, Ala., where they spent the winter.

The friends of Mrs. Victor Englehard will be rejoiced to learn that she has almost entirely recovered from her recent serious illness.

Before her departure from Covington to make her home in this city Miss Rose Salt gave a delightful party in compliment to Miss Mary Paul.

Miss Frances Tully, daughter of Thomas Tully, of New Albany, is recovering from illness and the operation she underwent at St. Edward's Hospital.

Miss Frances Wathen will return April 12 from Ottawa, Canada, after a visit to Mrs. George Mulligan. She will be accompanied home by Mrs. Mulligan and Master George Mulligan for a visit.

After a serious illness of typhoid fever at St. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, Miss Effie McDonald was last week removed to her home at Flora Heights, where it is thought she will be able to be out within the next few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Keenan arrived home Monday from a short visit to St. Louis, where they were entertained by Frank G. Cunningham and Supreme President Leonard of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America.

A spring wedding of much interest in Newport and Bellevue society circles will be that of Miss Florence Maule, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Maule, and Lee Maloney, whose engagement has just been announced. The groom-to-be is one of the leading young men of Bellevue.

The many friends and admirers of Miss Alice Canty will be interested to learn that she has almost recovered from the serious illness that has confined her to the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Canty, 2210 West Madison street, for the past six months. Miss Canty hopes to be out again next week, when she will receive a hearty welcome from the social set in which she was a leading and popular figure.

MRS. AL SMITH DIES.

Thursday morning when death claimed Mrs. Tillie Garst Smith, beloved wife of Al Smith, the undertaker, it was to give the eternal reward to one who all her life served the Lord faithfully and well. Mrs. Smith had suffered only a brief illness and her death resulted from the effects of an operation performed only a few days before. The news came as a great shock to her many relatives and acquaintances, and for the bereaved husband and five small children, four boys and one girl, there is everywhere the most profound sympathy. Up to the hour of going to press the funeral arrangements had not been completed.

UNDERWENT OPERATION.

Elmer Quinn, son of Mrs. Mayme Quinn, 1721 Baird street, has fully recovered from the operation he underwent for injuries accidentally received several weeks ago. Young Quinn was hurt while playing with a number of his boy friends, and for a time his condition was such as to alarm his relatives.

HELPS POPULATION ALONG.

The Stork hovered over a number of Louisville homes last week, and in consequence there will be much rejoicing when the christenings take place tomorrow. Happy over the arrival of boys are Dave Murphy, Jr., 1843 High street; Martin J. Connolly, 1800 Pirtle; Thomas Garvey, 600 North Nineteenth; Edward J. Whalen, 2633 High, and Frank Owens, Jr., 1810 Portland. But proudest of all is Will J. Larkin, 2427 Montgomery, to whose family circle has been added a lovely baby girl.

BASEBALL.

Fans Anxiously Awaiting Opening of Association Race.

Next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock His Honor Mayor Head will uncoil one of his curves at Ellipse Park in an attempt to split the plate, "pump" will about "play ball" and the American Association baseball season of 1912 will be on from then to September 23, which will be nearly six months of pleasure and feverish anxiety for the fans. From present indications everything points to brighter prospects for the Louisville team this year, as it is believed that our new Manager, Jack Tighe, possesses the fighting and bustling qualities that spell success and with that spirit he will have the hearty support of the fans all season, no matter whether the team is a pennant winner or not. The Colonels will surely be given a trying test in the opening game, being pitted against the two-time pennant winners, Minneapolis, who have been training at Hickman. The probable line-up of the Colonels will be Schell, c.; Laudermilk or Rowan, p.; Bransford, f. b.; Bell, s. b.; Stansbury, t. b.; Shean, s. a.; Hayden, r. f.; Stanley, c. f.; Burch, l. f. The Nashville team will play here this afternoon and tomorrow and the Cleveland team will be here for one game Monday, which will close the exhibition season, while Tuesday will be devoted to signal practice by Manager Tighe in preparation for the opening game. A half holiday will be declared by the General Council for opening day, and a crowd which will compare favorably with any of the major leagues is expected to be on hand.

MOURN HIS DEATH.

Many friends and relatives were deeply grieved when informed of the death of Thomas J. Cannon, son of Charles Cannon, of New Albany, and nephew of Capt. Thomas J. Cannon, Night Chief of Police in that city, which occurred on Saturday at the home of his parents, at 1501 East Oak street, after a long illness of tuberculosis. He returned the latter part of January from Denver, where he had spent six years. The deceased was twenty-seven years old and had been prominent in the insurance business here and in Colorado. His funeral took place Tuesday morning from Holy Trinity church and was largely attended. For years he had been a member of the Catholic Knights of America, many of whom attended the solemn obsequies.

EASTER SUNDAY NIGHT.

The Columbia Athletic Club's dramatic company promises a most delightful entertainment at Macaulay's Theater on Easter Sunday night, when the four-act comedy drama, "The Brookdale Farm," will be presented.

The cast was selected from the foremost amateurs in the city, and from the very ardent interest shown at all rehearsals bids fair to be one of the greatest productions of this character that has ever before been staged by an amateur cast. The cast is under the personal instruction of Ben Speaker, who has had many years of experience in actual work and also in coaching other bills. The object of the club in producing this bill is for the advancement of the dramatic art among its members, and at the same time it is their aim to use this means of securing funds to defray the obligation on their new club house at 621 East St. Catherine street. The cast includes the following: Messrs. Ben Beckmann, William Dennis, Ben Speaker, John T. Dennis, John Niscol, Henry Metten, William D. Larkin, James J. Donahoe, William Stiel, Harry Diehlmann, Irwin Lammers, Alf Hittinger, Misses Lillian Store, Mabel Ray, Theresa Perst, Lena Schindler and Mrs. A. Ducker. There will be specialties by Miss Mabel Ray, and old fashioned songs sung in old fashioned style by the "Brookdale Quartette," William H. Kuper, Jr., second tenor; John Paulin, first bass; Joseph G. Kraemer, first bass; Ben Johnson, second bass.

FOR FOR MARTIN.

The Queen of Nelson Bowling Club, the champion team of the South in the last two national bowling tournaments at St. Louis and Chicago, was entertained Wednesday with a Dutch lunch at John Lubbers' residence, 835 West Jefferson street, during which Albert F. Martin, the team's wide awake and enterprising manager, was presented with a handsome engraved gold watch charm from the members of the club. For once in his career "Al" was too full for utterance (not because it was Lubbers') and was barely able to respond by thanks.

MONTHLY MEETING.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Central Committee, C. K. of A., will be held next Friday night at St. Mary's Hall, Eighth and Grayson. Owing to the fact that the last two meetings took place during Lent and that quite a number of delegates could not attend, action on a number of questions was deferred, and therefore President Schaldia urges all who possibly can to be present.

EASTER MONDAY EUCHRIS.

A euchar for the benefit of Sacred Heart Retreat will be given next Monday afternoon at the residence of John Harry, 562 South Sixth street, and several handsome and novel prizes will be awarded the winners.

American Converts Distillery into Sugar Refining Factory.

John T. Millar, an Oregon man, has an idea that Ireland would advance more rapidly toward industrial prosperity if the nation did not rely so much on the production of whiskey as a national asset. So he has secured the freehold of extensive distillery premises in the city of Galway, which he means to convert into a sugar refining factory. The soil of Connemara is, he believes, adapted peculiarly to the cultivation of the sugar beet; and with acres of it lying idle he sees an immense opportunity for developing a successful enterprise. Sugar refining flourished in Galway before legislative enactments crushed the majority of Irish industries, and now with the prospect of the city becoming again a transatlantic port, there is a rosy outlook for the Oregon man's investment. Any way he is bold enough to try the experiment and to back it with $250,000, or more if necessary. He lives at present in London, but as soon as the factory gets along he means to take up his residence in the Galway neighborhood, so that he may have in personal touch with everything that goes on.

BENEFIT FOR CHURCH.

A euchar and lotto for the benefit of St. Columba's church, Thirty-fifth and Market, will be given at Fontaine Ferry Park on the afternoon and evening of April 23, for which the entire congregation is working. A feature will be the elaborate dinner in the evening. Tickets are only twenty-five cents and are going rapidly. This is one occasion when a good time will be provided for all.

QUARTERLY COMMUNION.

The 350 ladies who are members of the Altar Society of St. Patrick's church, the largest in the city, will assemble at the early mass tomorrow morning and receive their Easter holy communion in a body. This will be an inspiring beginning of the Master services at St. Patrick's, which will be conducted by Rev. Father Cronin, V. G., with great solemnity and splendor. The general quarterly meeting of the society will also take place.

HEALY QUILTS.

Will Leave Ireland and Make His Home in London.

Whether home rule becomes a reality or not, "Tim" Healy, it is anticipated, will not be a conspicuous figure much longer in Irish politics. He finds himself out of touch with almost every shade of political opinion in his own country, and if it were not for the influence which William O'Brien wields over the southwestern corner of Ireland Healy would not have a seat in the British Parliament today. It is significant that "Tim" at this crisis in the history of his country has removed his residence from Dublin to London, where he is trying to build up a practice at the English bar. Whatever may be the views of his opponents in Ireland, there is no doubt as to his having made great sacrifices for the attitude he has taken up toward John Redmond and those who follow the Irish leader. He had a most remunerative practice at the Irish bar, but it has disappeared, practically with no hope of recovery, even if he renounced O'Brien and again swore allegiance to Redmond. It is a peculiar circumstance that the Irish Unionists, although they will support him always against a Nationalist, would repudiate him openly if he began to lead them in any capacity whatever. In all this there is not the fulfillment of the hopes based on what promised to be a brilliant career both legally and politically.

MARY McHUGH DEAD.

In the death of Mrs. Mary McHugh, which occurred at her residence, 639 South Eighteenth street, the result of a two weeks' illness of heart trouble, there passed from the Sacred Heart parish an exemplary and good woman—a Christian woman in the truest sense of the word. Mrs. McHugh was the widow of Daniel McHugh, and was born in Ireland sixty-one years ago. She is survived by three sons, Capt. Edward McHugh, of the fire department; Dr. J. T. McHugh, of this city; Dr. F. M. McHugh, of Murray City, Utah, and one daughter, Mrs. Julia Preston, and two sisters, Mrs. Julia Bradley and Mrs. Sarah Golden, of this city. Rev. Patrick Walsh conducted the funeral service Monday morning, the church being thronged with sorrowing friends and relatives.

WALNUT THEATER.

It is announced that when Rose Melville appears as "Sis Hopkins," the quaint country girl of delicate wit and homely humor, during her engagement next week at the Walnut, it will be the last time that she will be seen in this city. At the close of the present season's tour Miss Melville says she will retire from the stage. It was her intention to retire from the play and the stage at the close of last season. This play is as popular as ever and will prove a welcome Easter attraction for patrons of the Walnut.

ST. CECILIA'S EUCHERE.

The young ladies of St. Cecilia's parish are making final preparations for their euchere and lotto, which will be given at the school house, Twenty-sixth and St. Cecilia streets, Tuesday evening, April 16. The proceeds of this affair will be used for the very worthy purpose for which the young ladies have been striving very hard recently, and they urgently plead for assistance from their friends in their laudable undertaking.

WILL SEE THE POPE.

Miss Eleonora Schaulle, who has been spending the past year in Europe, is in Rome for the Easter holiday season, and while there will have the great pleasure of being received by His Holiness Pope Pius X. Miss Schaulle spent the summer and fall in Ireland and Scotland, and then proceeded leisurely to Switzerland, visiting the cities and places of interest en route. After a tour of Italy she will return to Geneva.

FEDERATION.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Federation of Catholic Societies takes place Thursday night at the Catholic Woman's Club. A number of committees will report regarding the preparations for the national convention here next August, the work being well under way. From the interest now manifested it is safe to say that soon every society of Catholic men in the Falls Cities will be represented in this body.

CARDINAL IN DISGUISE.

When the late Cardinal Cullen, of Dublin, Ireland, lived there was a sick call for a priest from the pro-Catholic. The sick person was at a hotel, the proprietor of which was a Protestant. A stormy, wet, dark night it proved. As soon as the messenger got there a priest started. Through mud and slush he made his way, and at last arrived at the hotel, saw the sick person and gave him the sacraments. Everything went off as usual thus far, but now the curious part began. The proprietor of the hotel, thinking to do a little prospecting, invited the priest to come into his own sitting room. After administering some welcome refreshments, this Protestant evangelist let himself out. "To think, Father," said he, addressing the priest, "of the bride and cloth of these Bishops and Cardinals. Is it not monstrous? I warrant now that while the Cardinal has sent you on this long tramp through the muddy snow he is comfortably tossing his heels and drinking a good warm punch." "I think you wrong him," "Why?" "Because he is doing nothing of the kind." "You don't tell me! But how do you know?" "I know by the best of reasons. You haven't asked my name." "Your name! What is it?" "Cullen—Cardinal Cullen."

In a moment the hotelkeeper was on his feet, his hat off.
"Will Your Eminence forgive me?" spoke in ignorance. Shall I order a carriage for Your Eminence?
"Oh, no, I can go back at I came. I am used to such journeys."
The Cardinal departed.
A few days afterward the hotelkeeper went to a priest for instructions, and was finally received into the church.

LATEST IN STYLES.

For elegant costumes one notes the use of silk otoman.
A touch of corse appears on many of the blouses of white crepe de chine.
Louis XVI. simplicity bids likely to have a tremendous vogue in millinery.
Foulards in lovely shades of blue and rose are to be much in favor for the one piece gown, so practical for spring wear.
A highly favored gown material is flowered monastelline de sole in tones of blue, cerise and violet, brocaded in dull gold.
Large hats have towering pyramids of feathers, while tiny bonnets are trimmed with masses of plumes at the back.
Sashes remain in good standing among fashionable accessories of the summer gown, and by way of trimming there is a wide offering in cluny laces in the val variety and in flat venetian.

The newest effects in neckwear are not unlike bits of fine net and lace plaited to a stock and maintaining a flat shoulder by means of a broad lace insertion which connects the front part of the bib with the back.
Though it is to be largely a white season in children's clothes, the lines of colored dresses have by no means been neglected. Pretty stripes, checks and plaids as well as plain colors in chambrays, linens, ginghams and other wash fabrics are being shown.

PRIEST ELECTED MAYOR.

Rev. Father P. Dunnigan, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception at Lapeer, Mich., was elected Mayor of that city at the municipal election held Monday. Father Dunnigan was not an active candidate, but the honor was conferred on him by a handsome majority of the voters.

IRISH EXPORTS INCREASE.

Irish exports last year exceeded Irish imports for the first time on record. The amount of money on deposit in the joint stock banks was the highest ever recorded.

CROKER

Offers Grounds at Glencairn For Young Irish Athletes.

Richard Croker has come to the aid of a number of Irish athletes who have decided to abandon Phoenix Park as a practicing ground. For quite a number of years a place known as the "Nine Acres" has been used by the members of the Gaelic Athletic Association for sporting interests, but now they think they must find more congenial surroundings. Their ground is in the vicinity of the Cavendish-Burke tragedy of 1882, where efforts have been made from time to time to obliterate the actual scene of the tragedy, but without success, and finding that each succeeding year only helps to attract more visitors, the Gaelic athletes determined to desert the "Nine Acres" and go elsewhere. On a new ground at "Glencairn," Croker's sporting estate, they will be free from the crowd of curiously seekers. There will not be the same facilities for inviting all Ireland to see the athletic displays as there were in the park, but there will be sufficient room for the "boys" to wield the Camans to the delight of their friends, and to kick the ball under conditions which will be new to the majority of those who follow Gaelic sports in Ireland, especially to young athletes in the neighborhood of Dublin.

WILL BUILD SOON.

Rev. Father James Bolin and the people of St. Francis Xavier's congregation at Henryville, Clark county, Ind., will soon begin the erection of a new church. Father Bolin has worked hard to raise funds for this purpose since coming to Henryville, and people of all denominations are rejoicing that his efforts have been successful and the building of a new and handsome structure is assured.

AVENUE THEATER.

For next week's attraction the Avenue Theater announces "The Gambler of the West," a successful melodrama depicting life in the days of the gold fever in our Far West. Edward Westfield will be seen as "Lucky" Jack Gordon, the gambler, and in the part of "Little Great Bear," the son of the Chief of the Sioux Indians, Allen Macauley Pfeiffer is announced.

CATHOLIC CHILDREN'S PAPER.

The Catholic Church Extension Society publishes an illustrated little paper every month called the Child Apostle. It is edited by one of the priests of the society specially for little ones. It is only twenty-five cents, or better still, send twenty-five cents in stamps for a year's subscription for your boy or girl. Address the Child Apostle, 1133 McCormick building, Chicago, Ill.

AMERICANS RECEIVED.

Pope Pius last Friday received Monsignor Thomas F. Kennedy, rector of the American College in Rome, who presented him the Peter's Pence fund from the Newark diocese, and also introduced a number of American citizens. The Holy Father appeared to be in his usual health.

UNUSUAL SERVICE TONIGHT.

This Holy Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at St. Anthony's church will be witnessed the impressive and devotional resurrection service, the observance of which is not general in the churches of the city. The blessed sacrament will be carried in procession through the church, and the occasion will be one of unusual solemnity.

SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS.

Fred T. Helfernan, former Captain in the fire department, is now conducting a grocery and cafe at the corner of Thirty-fifth and Madison streets. Fred still finds time to do a little in politics and is always a valuable worker in the local Democratic organization.

SHELBYVILLE.

Rev. Father John H. Riley and the people of his congregation are perfecting arrangements for the very material improvement of the Church of the Annunciation at Shelbyville. The work will be done during the coming summer.

THE AGE OF THE FORK.

Knives and spoons are of very great antiquity, but the use of the fork is really, comparatively speaking, modern. Indispensable as these adjuncts of the table may now appear, their use had not become at all general at the beginning of the eighteenth century.

"SHOUTS THE WAITER."

The waiter who hails out his order to the cook in the kitchen may soon be as extinct as the dodo; but his cries should live forever.
"Mutton broth in a hurry," says a customer. "Bas-oa in the rain! Make him run!" shouts the waiter.
"Steak and onions," says a customer. "John Bull! Make him a ginn!" shouts the waiter.
"Where's my baked potatoes?" asks a customer. "Mrs. Murphy in a scalpin coat!" shouts the waiter.
"Two fried eggs. Don't fry 'em too hard," says a customer. "Adam and Eve in the Garden! Leave their eyes open!" shouts the waiter.
"Poached eggs on toast," says a customer. "Bride and groom on a raft in the middle of the ocean!" shouts the waiter.
"Chicken croquettes," says a customer. "Fowl ball!" shouts the waiter.
"Hash," says a customer. "Gentleman wants to take a chance!" shouts the waiter. "I'll have hash, too," says the next customer. "Another sport!" shouts the waiter.
"Glass of milk," says a customer. "Let it rain!" shouts the waiter.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

A splendid new division has been instituted at Waterbury, Conn. Charles Riley, of Division 3, is still sick, with no change in his condition.

There are forty-seven divisions in the County Armagh, Ireland, with a membership of 1,785. Middlesex county, Mass., has elected and will send its full quota of delegates to Chicago.

Spirited debates upon questions of public interest now enliven the meetings of Division 7 of Minneapolis.

Friends of the Ladies' Auxiliary are urged not to forget their reception and euchar at Falls City Hall.

There were twenty-five candidates for the ten places as delegates to the national convention from Suffolk county, Mass.

Kentucky will send a full delegation and many visitors to the national convention, which meets in Chicago on Tuesday, July 16.

A new division with fifty-four charter members was instituted last month at Gloucester, Mass., where the Ladies' Auxiliary numbers over 300.

County President Richard Dwyer, of Suffolk county, Mass., reports a gain of over 200 members, while the finances have increased 33 1-3 per cent.

Division 8 of Syracuse celebrated its twentieth anniversary Thursday night with an initiation and welcome for every Hibernian who would attend.

The membership of Worcester county, Mass., now 3,756, will be increased to 4,000 by May 1. Ninety-one applications were pending at the March meeting.

Hamden county, Mass., reports the largest membership and finances ever held by that county, with a gain of about 250 members, making the total over 2,000.

The Hibernian Social Club invites all members of the order to their motion picture, vaudeville and amateur entertainment at the Norman Theater on April 10.

The divisions and auxiliaries of the "Nutmeg" State are uniting all their energies to have the coming State parade at Bridgeport the largest ever held in New England.

County President Dolan addressed the meeting of Division 3, Monday night. Timely remarks were also made by Edward J. Mackey, Patrick T. Mullen and D. J. Dougherty.

Two years ago over 7,000 men marched in the State parade at New Haven, Conn. State President Sullivan writes that this will be eclipsed when the State convention meets at Bridgeport on August 20.

Division 4 meets Monday night at Bertrand Hall, Sixth and Oak streets. This division has a large membership and its sessions are always interesting. President Hennessy and the men of Limerick have always a warm welcome for visitors from the other divisions.

WASHINGTON.

Unveiling of the Columbus
Memorial Exciting
Interest.

On June 8 there will be unveiled in the city of Washington the memorial to the memory of Christopher Columbus, provided for by the Congress of the United States. The memorial takes the form of an immense shaft at the back of the fountain, surmounted by a huge globe indicative of the world, upon which is delineated the Western hemisphere in relief, the corners of the globe being guarded by great eagles in stone. The figure of Columbus is seen standing on the prow of his vessel, which projects into the fountain, while on either side of the shaft are replicas of two men, one indicative of the Old World, being an aged patriarch, while the other is a native of the New World—an Indian. The back of the shaft is to carry a medallion of Ferdinand and Isabella. The unveiling ceremonies are expected to be most noteworthy, and widespread interest on the part of the Knights of Columbus is being evidenced on every hand. In the opinion of those who are well informed the belief obtains that this will prove an epoch in the patriotic demonstration that this organization will make at the time of unveiling the memorial. From reports that are reaching Washington the councils throughout the entire country are arranging to send large delegations to represent the order in the grand review that will take place at that time.

NEW ALBANY.

New Albany Council, Knights of Columbus, will soon give a minstrel performance, to which the public is to be invited. There will be a number of musical attractions, not the least of which will be solos by Joe Fallon.

At St. Mary's church Wednesday night the office of Tenebrae was sung. The Lenten instructions which were given on Wednesday evenings during Lent by Father Reihertz were very instructive and were attended by large congregations. On Easter Sunday at high mass Gunod's mass will be sung by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Henry Terstege.

MISSION ON THE KNOBS.

A three days' mission, beginning Easter Sunday morning and ending Tuesday evening, is announced for St. Mary's of the Knobs church, north of New Albany, of which Rev. Joseph Bernerheim is pastor. The mission will be conducted by two Jesuit fathers from the St. Louis University, who will preach at the high mass at 10 o'clock in the morning and at the vespers at 7:30 at night.

FIRST SPRING DANCE.

Mackin Council Social Club will open its spring social season with another of its select dances on Easter

Monday night. The affairs of this club have been well conducted and have been most popular with the young people, and it is expected the club house will be thronged. Chairman

Link and his committees will leave nothing undone for the entertainment of those present, while the orchestra will play the latest dance music.

CLIFTO—CRESCENT EUCIRE.

Next Wednesday, April 10, the Clifto-Crescent Club will entertain with a euchar and lotto at Elmore

Sherman's residence, 161 Roberts

avenue, and the members of Father

White's congregation are making preparations to give a royal welcome and pleasant evening to all who attend. The games in the afternoon will be called at 2:30 o'clock and in the evening at 8.

ST. ANN SOCIETY EUCIRE.

The St. Ann Society, which is composed of the ladies of St. Patrick's parish, will entertain with a euchar and lotto at Heptasoph Hall, in the corner Seventeenth and Main streets, Monday afternoon and evening, April 15, the games in the afternoon being called at 2:30 o'clock and the evening games at 8 o'clock.

SIXTEENTH FOR CRITERION.

The Criterion Club, the members of which are popular residents of the West End, will celebrate its sixteenth anniversary with a select ball and reception at Lederkrans

Hall on Easter Monday night. Its purpose being principally social,

this club well knows how to entertain its friends, to one and all of whom a cordial invitation is extended.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest
Members Here and Elsewhere.

The Catholic University fund is now close to $400,000.

Numbers of councils throughout the country omitted their meetings in observance of Holy Week.

Efforts are being made to organize a baseball league among the councils of Buffalo and vicinity.

The Knights of Auburn, N. Y., have secured the State Armory for their annual Easter ball on April 17.

The next exemplification of the fourth degree for Indiana Knights will take place at Fort Wayne on May 26.

A committee has been given full power and instructed to secure a site for the home for the Knights of Holyoke, Mass.

District Deputy Veeneman, of

Evansville, has been invited to exemplify the major degree at Henderson, on April 21.

Chicago Knights plan sending more than ten troops of members to the unveiling of the Columbus monument.

Quite a number of Frankfort

Knights will join the Louisville special to the unveiling of the Columbus

memorial at Washington.

The exemplification of the major degree at Lexington on April 21 will be under the direction of J. Madison

Walsh, of Washington, Ind.

Last Sunday week forty-three candidates were given the second degree at Olean, N. Y., many of the class being clergymen and students at St.

Bonaventure's College.

While it has not been definitely decided by the committee in charge of a location for the Knights of Columbus Home, which Frankfort

Council proposes to erect in the near future, three locations are being considered, the most desirable of which will be recommended within the next two or three weeks. It is the intention to erect a home that will not only be a credit to the Knights of Columbus, but also one that will reflect credit upon the Capital City of Kentucky. The Home

Committee is composed of John T.

Buckley, James Sullivan, C. E.

Collins, John E. Glenn and John R.

Sower, all of whom are representative business men of Frankfort.

OUTLINED.

Next National Convention

of Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Throughout the United States interest is awakening in the forty-eighth national convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, which will be held in Chicago during the week beginning July 14, and for which extensive preparation has already been made. Following is an outline of the programme which will be carried out during the week:

The Ancient Order of Hibernians national convention sessions will be held in the auditorium of the Em-met Memorial building. Ladies' Auxiliary national convention sessions will be held in Hall No. 1, third floor, Emmet Memorial building.
